- On Spay/Neuter days, Spay Me! focuses specifically on the spaying and neutering of healthy animals with normal anatomy. If you have further concerns, please discuss scheduling a wellness appointment with the clinic.
- Spay Me! does not routinely place intravenous catheters or run intravenous fluids on our surgical patients. No advanced diagnostics will be performed prior to surgery. Some medical conditions, which may increase the patient's risk, may not be detected/detectable without such testing. I am solely responsible for informing SpayMe! staff of any preexisting conditions. I understand that preanesthetic bloodwork is recommended for animals age 7 years and older.
- The surgery performed is a major surgery and like all major surgeries has inherent risks that are associated with anesthesia, drug administration, and surgical. Pregnant females or those in heat may be spayed but the risk to the animals may be increased. Every reasonable precaution and the best possible medical care will be exercised while the animal is a patient at our clinic. This may include the decision not to perform surgery at the veterinarian's discretion.
- I understand the inherent risks of failing to maintain current vaccinations and waive all claims arising out of, or connected with, the performance of this operation due to such failure. I understand, in particular, that if the animal develops kennel cough or other upper respiratory infections after surgery, I am responsible for treatment at my own cost.
- I understand the animal will receive a small green tattoo on his/her underside to show that he/she has been sterilized.
- In rare cases, male animals may have undescended testicle(s). This is called cryptorchidism and it can naturally occur in some animals. In order for these animals to be neutered, I understand that the veterinarian will need to perform additional surgical procedures and an additional cost will be incurred.
- 4th year vet students participate in externships at this clinic. They work directly under the supervising veterinarian performing spays and neuters for rescue and publicly owned animals, with owner consent. Please let us know if you do not consent to a student performing supervised surgery on your pet.
- Shelter from the Storm and Spay Me! do not endorse any practices concerning the care or housing of animals that in any way violates any local ordinances
- Unposted Fees: In some instances, charges for services rendered may still be in the processing stage when I pick my animal up. I agree to pay for these charges when a final bill is received.
- If live fleas are found on your pet, a topical preventative will be applied and a small charge (per pet) will be added. This is for their safety as well as the safety of other pets in clinic today. (**Cats getting the Outdoor Package are treated automatically at no additional charge.)
- **OUTDOOR CATS ONLY: Eartipping is the universal sign of an altered feral cat. I understand and agree to the eartipping with the Outdoor Package. If you do not wish for your cat to receive an EAR TIP, you must select the indoor cat package.
- I agree to allow Spay Me! Clinic to take photographs of my pet and grant permission for these to be used by Spay me! Clinic on social media platforms, promotional materials, and other publications made by Spay Me! Clinic. If you do not consent, you MUST inform staff that you do not wish to have your pet photographed.
- I acknowledge that I have received the Post-Surgical Home Care Instructions (available at the end of this form) and will provide proper post-surgery monitoring and care for the animal including, but not limited to, the Instructions. Further, I understand that I am financially responsible for any post-surgical costs incurred at follow-up visits at Spay Me! or any other veterinary facility.

I have read, understand and agree to follow all aftercare instructions provided by Spay Me! and/or my veterinarian. Surgery:

Female Dogs and Cats: An incision is made into the abdomen and the ovaries and uterus removed. The incision is closed with internal and absorbable sutures. The sutures are under the skin and do not need to be removed.

Male Dogs: An incision is made in front of or on the scrotum. The testicles are removed through this incision. The incision is closed with internal and absorbable sutures or tissue glue. The sutures are under the skin and do not need to be removed.

Male Cats: An incision is made on the scrotum and both testicles removed. The incision heals together on its own. No stitches need to be removed.

Anytime surgery is performed there is a risk of infection or bleeding, but we try to minimize this risk.

Anesthesia:

During surgery, all animals are placed under general anesthesia and given pain medication. However, we do not run pre-operative bloodwork or place an IV fluid line. Most animals do just fine. However, anesthesia does have inherent risks involved, the same as a human. In some circumstances, the worst case scenario can include death. If we have a complication, treatment is started immediately and you will be contacted. Unfortunately, we cannot make any guarantees of survival. Our complication rate is very low, so this is unlikely to happen. It is our responsibility to make you aware of the inherent risk of surgery and the use of anesthesia.

Tattoo:

A small, green, linear tattoo is applied to the belly after surgery to indicate neutered status.

SQ Fluids:

Subcutaneous fluids are administered to all cats after surgery, under the skin, between the shoulder blades. It is usually absorbed by time of discharge.
